

Our fry packaging is specially designed for the operator and consumer experience when it comes to greasier foods. The front scoop design allows for portion control to limit overfilling. When placed in the bag, our stand-up design allows the operator to easily configure multiple items in a to-go bag, keeping your food in the intended package instead of spilling out. While the consumer is on-the-go, our grease-resistant barrier helps minimize staining for a nice product presentation.

Fry packaging is great for other food as well, including pretzel bites, popcorn chicken, mozzarella sticks, and delicious dessert items. This popular package can be seen in quick service restaurants, university cafeterias, and concession stands where dry items are served in an open container.

Sustainability

- Paperboard is made from plant-based fiber, a renewable raw material
- Fiber used meets the Sustainable Forestry Initiative® (SFI®) Certified Sourcing standards, ensuring that fiber used comes from responsible, renewable sources

Operational Efficiency

- Can be used as a scoop to quickly fill the container and maintain portion control
- Stackable or lay-flat design takes up minimal back-of-house storage space
- Grease-resistant barrier maintains stability of the package and minimizes the transfer of oils to other products in a to-go bag

Consumer Experience

- Easily stands up in a bag or can lay flat on a tray
- Design ensures the food stays in the container instead of spilling out that can occur with thin paper fry bags
